Re: Rezoning Adjacent to Willowbend on the corner of Farrington Point Rd. and McGhee Rd.

My wife and I purchased a lot in Willowbend (64 Pin Oak Ct.) this past spring. We are currently building a home on this property. Our reasons for purchasing this land were for its country, exclusive, quiet, noncommercial atmosphere. Chatham County is a beautiful place known for its more remote suburban style. There are plenty of commercial areas and property already within this county and area. There is no need to develop another and continue a commercial growth of such nature when the reasons for living in this area are for the neighborhood and suburban/rural environment, which has already been established. All we ask, is for you to deny the rezoning so as to maintain some of the natural beauty that attracts people to this area and this county. I truly hope you take this seriously and consider my request.

Kindly,
