

No Superior Race

Editor of the Daily News:

The racial showcase of America is in the South. Racial segregation in the South either aids or endangers the nation. The world doesn't criticize the South for its supposed mistreatment of the Negro. The world criticizes the United States.

I am well pleased with the way the Negroes are carrying about their sit-down strike for human rights. I hope that Negroes will continue to stand up for their rights which they deserve.

All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and of the state wherein they reside. The Negro is a citizen of this state and the United States and should not be deprived of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

The Negro pays taxes and fights for his country. When he gets back he ought to be treated fair and equal as any American citizen.

The main problem of segregation is the Negro man. The spotlight is also on the white man. If it were not for the Negro man, there would not be any segregation in the South and the United States. The Negro doesn't want to be the white man's brother-in-law. We just want to be his brother as God intend us to be. Christ wished that all men to be born free and equal, because we all are a part of Him regardless of race, creed or color. He is the Father and we all are His children, and he loves us all alike. There is no superior race in the sight of God.

The letter sent by the A. & T. College student to Atty. Gen. Malcolm Seawell was not released to the press for publicity as such but was released to let the state and nation know the true facts: The Negro wants all of his freedom. They had no reason to keep it a secret.

Anything worthwhile for the press ought to be published. Of course, A. & T.'s prime purpose remains education. Understanding your fellowman is a great part of education. Understanding your fellowman will give you a better understanding of Christ and Christian living. The students have not used bad temper as was said but have used good judgment. The fight for justice is the American way of life.

There should be peace on earth and good will towards men as the Prince of Peace would like for it to be. God loves the world and all that is in it. So He must love all of his people.

We all want to feel we are a part of the community in which we live. Likewise the Negro wants to feel that he is a part of his country.

I hope that the Negro will continue to fight the walls of segregation until they are totally destroyed.
