

"Dynamic Force"

Editor of The Daily News:

The inherent dignity of man can only be exemplified through equality of opportunity for all. In striving to reach that objective we look to the American schools as a standard-bearer. Education must be a dynamic force in the building of democracy before a change will be accepted without violence.

During this decade the living habits of the American people are changing greater than ever before. Within this decade, Negroes will be given civil rights. Are you ready for the change?

Are you willing:

To accept the responsibility?

To take your share of burdens?

To elect and support the most qualified people in office?

To give others a chance?

To partake in integrated school activities?

To improve your personal habits?

To modernize your community and surroundings?
