

Smith Speaks At Institute

Visiting ministers, attending the seventh annual Town and Rural Ministers Institute this week at A&T College, heard two major addresses at the sessions Thursday.

Greensboro attorney McNeil Smith described the duties, functions and apparent results connected with the work of the North Carolina Advisory Committee, U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, of which he is chairman, in speaking on "The Challenge of Change in Community Relations."

A second presentation was made by Dr. C. E. Bishop, head of the Department of Agricultural Economics, State College, who spoke on, "The Challenge of Change in Agriculture."

The afternoon session was consumed with study classes discussing information afforded in the morning sessions. Last night the group participated in informal recreation at the Charles Moore Gymnasium.

The sessions close today at noon.
